

ReIMS Professional

After many years of research and development we have determined that utilizing the tablet pc is the most effective way to conduct a household goods or office & industrial survey.

Overview

By utilizing the ease of use of a tablet PC during the survey you will find yourself conducting faster surveys along with a single click to presentation materials giving you the edge over your competitors. By the time you finish your survey volume, weight, materials needed and costs will be ready for print and customer signoff.

Features

- The tablet pc replaces your sales person's desktop or laptop; there is no need for an additional pc or palm.
- Faster, more accurate and consistency than a cube sheet.
- If an item is not listed you can simply write it in and easily change the volume or density factor within that specific quote.
